reliaBond Xtra Self Etch Adhesive

reliaBond Xtra is a truly “all in one” adhesive. It allows the user to etch, prime and bond using a single application. reliaBond Xtra offers high bond strength to enamel and dentine and is suitable for use with both composite and compomers.

A one-step, self-etching, bonding agent. No need to use etchants or primers prior to applying the adhesive. Just apply adhesive, light cure and you are ready to apply the composite restorative material. Bond strength and biocompatibility are both high and also the material is completely HEMA free. Only a very thin adhesive layer is required making the material ideal for aesthetic restorations. Because no primers or etchants are required, application from start to finish typically takes less than 30 seconds.

A true seventh generation bond, reliaBond Xtra is available in a convenient bottle. One-step application: no need to prime or etch – 7th Generation.
